

www.dpnrubber.com

Corner Type Rubber Fender

The boat corner fenders serves as a fender for the corner of the quay, making up the gap in the quay fender products. Our Corner Type Rubber fender can change the design angle of fender according to customer requirements, and can also be used in conjunction with other DPN rubber products. We provide all kinds of rubber fenders to fully protect your ships and other marine equipment.

With over 30 years' experience in providing dock corner fenders all over the world ,we fully understand the greatest concern of our customs. Our R&D department always develop new products to improve custom's experience.

We provide customers with the best solution, it is not just the product itself, but also the overall equipment compatibility, convenient installation, as well as the later maintenance. The use of DPN RUBBER SYSTEM series products, it is good to avoid the different suppliers of products between the compatibility, so as to better play the role of system protection. At present, our products have been widely used in China major shipyards, including Jiangnan Shipyard, shipyard, Whampoa shipyard etc. In the European market, our products have also been widely used in Russia, Denmark and other ports. In accordance with customer requirements, we provide products that meet national standards, including Russian national standards, Norway national standards, and so on. At present, we are the only company in China to provide products in accordance with national standards, and is currently the only one with the European local government procurement cooperation company. And we are also the best customer feedback company.

For the very best end-to-end solutions, please connect DPNRUBBER corner fenders with your fully information, or the details or your item, we will give your advice according to your actual situation within 24 hours.

Tel : +86-553-2663991

Email:info@dpnrubber.com